

Greta Thunberg and 14 more inspirational activists to follow

As recommended by young people who are passionate about the environment.

@catalysechange

Supporting girls & young women to develop sustainability skills & knowledge for 'healthy, happy & green' communities, careers & planet.

@Jaden

@SteveBackshall

Naturalist known for his BBC Show Deadly 60.

@dara_mcanulty

A Northern Irish naturalist, writer & environmental campaigner, Dara is also the youngest ever winner of the RSPB Medal.

@birdgirluk

Mya-Rose Craig, also known as Birdgirl, is a British Bangladeshi ornithologist & campaigner for equal rights.

@gretathunberg

@maxlamanna

This zero waste vegan is brilliant. Even if you're not vegan, the food is incredible! Did you know you can make pulled pork from banana skin?!!

@trees4goals

15 year old Lesein Mutunkei is a perfect example of how we can all make a difference with small actions. For every goal he scores, he plants a tree #Trees4Goals.

@EmmaWatson

Emma Watson has helped the English Fair Trade Brand, People Tree, create three organic & Fairtrade clothing collections.

@kidsagainstplastic

Sisters Amy & Ella campaign against single use plastic.

@tolmeia

Tolmeia began writing an ethical fashion blog at the age of 11 & now her accounts showcase different ways to protect the environment.

@AmazingPhil

@ISX

Environmentalism

The Intersectional Environmentalist is a platform of resources that will help you advocate for both the protection of people & the planet.

@MarkRuffalo

An actor who became an environmental activist a decade ago.

@mikaelaloach

Based in Edinburgh, Mikaela shares insights into low-waste living, climate activism & how to make these movements more accessible.