About the wood...

St. Joseph's is YDMT's first major supporter woodland. Planted in the winter of 1998 and 1999 the woodland is located at Aysgarth Falls in Wensleydale, next to the ancient Freeholders Wood and near the famous waterfalls.

The 12-hectare site has been planted with around 11,500 trees - mainly ash with oak, hazel, rowan and holly.

Part of the area is a Site of Special Scientific Interest and the knolls have been left unplanted to protect the herb-rich grassland.

How to get there...

Take the A684 to Aysgarth.

Parking is available at the Aysgarth Falls car park which is well signposted from the A684.

A Public Right of Way (marked by footpath fingerpost) runs across the site of St. Joseph's Wood from the entrance to Freeholders Wood, so visitors can view and walk through both the new and old woods, as and when they wish.

Please Note: The woodland is situated on private land - please keep to the footpath in the wood.

The Yorkshire Dales Millennium Trust is a small charity doing big things to support every aspect of life in the Yorkshire Dales. By supporting our work you have helped to restore part of the wonderful jigsaw of features which makes the Yorkshire Dales landscape so special.

Thank you.

Map

We're passionate about restoring woodlands in the Yorkshire Dales. With your help we've planted over 1 million new native broadleaf trees so far, creating hundreds of natural woodlands which will absorb carbon, create vibrant wildlife habitats and enrich the landscape for people to enjoy.
Thank you for your vital support.
